THE ART OF TRUE CRAFTSMANSHIP

DDRUM USA CUSTOM SHOP DRUMS

There comes a time in the life of each player when they know EXACTLY what they want to play. Not just something to be hit; an instrument that is so personal, it truly captures the essence of drumming itself.

The Custom Shop Series from Ddrum USA is the realization of that vision. Drawing on over 30 years of drum crafting experience, the artisans at the USA Custom Shop stray far from the assembly line method of manufacturing to give each drum a personality of its own. Starting with select Canadian Maple 6-ply, 5mm shells by Keller™ Woods, each drum is hand treated with a 24-step process that is specifically designed to draw the best sonic properties from the shell.

A smooth, furniture-grade inner shell is achieved to assure that the true warmth of Maple shines through with each stroke. The esoteric beauty of the outer shell - while created to showcase the pristine beauty of the wood - is not overly processed in finishing, in order to create soothing lows, even mids, and sparkling highs.

The sky is literally the limit in choosing the feel and finish of each Custom Shop kit. Whether you're looking for classic Satin Stain, stunning High Gloss Lacquer, die-cast hoops, wood hoops; it can all be achieved. Fades? Bursts? Sparkles? Hotrod Flame Graphics? No problem. Our Custom Shop in Portland, Oregon has an airbrush and pin striping artist on-hand for limitless possibilities.

The palette is enlarged even further with the addition of our new Tour Tuff™ veneer finishes. Made of Masonite™ impact-proof material and chemically bonded to the outer shell, Tour Tuff veneers come in thousands of wood grains, marbles, and solid finishes. Best of all, once the veneer is bonded to the shell, it becomes the final ply in the shell; resulting in improved shell resonance and durability.

Custom bass drum heads are even available from our friends at DrumArt.com, for picture-perfect matching and the ultimate personalized statement.

The bottom line? Better performance from the shell creates better performance from the player. A full sonic spectrum from a personalized instrument that results in the reality of every drummer's dream.
